Chinese Philosophy: A Selective and Analytic Approach 2010-10-19 from the beginning of the first chapter one of the most remarkable men in the history of china as also in the history of philosophy is lao tzu the author of the tao te ching this book deserves and has obtained with those who know it a high place among philosophical works and the posthumous fortunes of its author have very rarely been surpassed that his own followers or at least those who professed to be and probably believed that they were his followers should magnify his name was only what we would have expected they have raised him from the rank of ordinary mortals and represented him as an incarnation of deity showing himself on this earth at sundry times and in various manners his conception and birth his personal appearance and everything about him have been represented by them as supernatural and the philosophic little treatise which he composed is regarded as a sacred book much of this has arisen from a spirit of rivalry with buddhism the taoists did not wish to be behind the buddhists in the amount of glory and mystery attaching to the reputed originator of their religion and they accordingly tried to make the fortunes of lao tzu like those of shakya muni the buddha of the present both confucianists and buddhists however also regard the tao te ching as a book of deep mysteries and admit the supernatural or at least marvellous character of its author though as will be seen many censure him for teaching doctrines either in themselves mischievous or leading to evil results when fully developed at several periods of chinese history lao tzu has enjoyed the patronage of government and almost supplanted confucius indeed during several of the dynasties which reigned within the first few centuries of our era there seems to have been a constant struggle for ascendancy between the followers of these two philosophic chiefs emperors have done honour to lao tzu in his temple and the sovereigns of the great tang dynasty were proud to deem him their lineal ancestor one emperor has even written an excellent commentary on his book and one of the best editions of the tao te ching as regards textual excellence is that by a confucian mandarin under the present dynasty buddhist monks also have edited the book with annotations and many of them regard it and its author with a reverence second only to that with which the taoist regard them it is not only however his own countrymen who have given honour to this prophet by western writers also great and mysterious things have been attributed to him some have found in his book an enunciation of the doctrine of the trinity the illustrious remusat discovered in it the sacred name jehovah and many curious analogies with the best philosophic writings of ancient times and more especially with those of greece pauthier who has read and written largely about lao tzu finds in his teachings the triple brahma of the ancient hindoos the adibuddha of the northern buddhists and an anticipated christianity the tao of which lao tzu speaks so much has been likened to god to the logos of plato and the neoplntonists to the nonentity of some german philosophers and to many other things pauthier says le dieu invoqué et decrit par lao tseu est la grande voie du monde la raison suprême universelle materiellement identique avec le mot qui sert á designer dieu dans les langues grecque latine dens et leurs derivées modernes mais les attribute qu il lui donne ne sont point ceux qu ont données á l etre suprême toutes les doctrines spiritualistes de l orient transmises á l occident par una voie juive et grecque par les therepeutes et les esséniens dont jesus le fils de l homme fut le revelateur et le representant á l etat philosophique

The Path 2016-04-05 specific chinese models for theories of knowledge were premised upon a structurally ordered external reality since natural or cosmic order is organic it naturally follows the flow of structural patterns and operates in accordance with structural principles that regulate every existence in this worldview our mind is also structured in accordance with this all embracing but open organic system the axioms of our recognition and thought are therefore not arbitrary but follow this rationally designed structure the compatibility of both the cosmic and mental structures is the basic precondition that enables humans to perceive and recognize external reality the present study shows that this paradigm of structural epistemology can already be found in the earliest chinese theories of knowledge the introduction of chinese models and their incorporation into western discourses fills an important theoretical gap in the western model of structuralism this book offers an insight into epistemological systems that arose outside the discourses of the euro american tradition it can thus help us to eliminate and supersede certain culturally conditioned prejudices as to the superiority and omnipresence of western theoretical models while demonstrating incontrovertibly that the results of western discourses are by no means the only force driving theoretical innovation at the present time
