The "writing" of Modern Life 2008

what is it about etching that renders it according to both the poet critic charles baudelaire and the visionary artist samuel palmer a medium of writing and moreover what makes etching equally adaptable to the expression of both memory and modernity the writing of modern life examines british french and american artists who from the polemical beginnings of the etching revival in the 1850s to its twentieth century afterlife practiced etching as a form of quasi literary authorship whether or not these printmakers viewed etching as a medium for expressing thoughts or personality as baudelaire and palmer claimed they did find in the craft a way to suggest both elegiac recollection and the visual strangeness of modern

it is a commonplace that the modern world cannot be experienced as enchanted that the very concept of enchantment belongs to past ages of superstition jane bennett challenges that view she seeks to rehabilitate enchantment showing not only how it is still possible to experience genuine wonder but how such experience is crucial to motivating ethical behavior a creative blend of political theory philosophy and literary studies this book is a powerful and innovative contribution to an emerging interdisciplinary conversation about the deep connections between ethics aesthetics and politics as bennett describes it enchantment is a sense of openness to the unusual the captivating and the disturbing in everyday life she guides us through a wide and often surprising range of sources of enchantment showing that we can still find enchantment in nature for example but also in such unexpected places as modern technology advertising and even bureaucracy she then explains how everyday moments of enchantment can be cultivated to build an ethics of generosity stimulating the emotional energy and honing the perceptual refinement necessary to follow moral codes throughout bennett draws on thinkers and writers as diverse as kant schiller thoreau kafka marx weber adorno and deleuze with its range and daring the enchantment of modern life is a provocative challenge to the centuries old narrative of disenchantment one that presents a new alter tale that discloses our profound attachment to the human and nonhuman world
