it is the aim of this edited volume to take a hard look at gender and visual culture gender and visual culture traverse in quite unique and often fascinating ways on the one hand gender functions as an interdisciplinary approach and critical tool to analyse and investigate several subject fields as such gender contributes to establishing a much needed theoretical and functional platform spanning across many fields of enquiry from where gender practices can effectively be critiqued and ideally changed on the other hand the growing popularity and ubiquity of visual culture in a global context create the increasing need to reflect on and interrogate this phenomenon in an academic manner although visual culture studies is an established subject at many northern institutions it is fairly new and relatively under theorised in the south in response to the growing need to investigate issues dealing with gender and visual culture and particularly how they creatively intersect this selection of chapters first presented as papers at the taking a hard look gender and visual culture international conference 20 21 june 2007 institute for gender and women s studies university of pretoria south africa are collected here in the hope to make a purposeful contribution to the burgeoning discourse however by addressing the creative intersection between gender and visual culture this edited volume is no novelty in fact the topic of gender and visual culture has been addressed over the past decade in several edited volumes it is in this proud tradition that this book aims to take its place and to create a dialogue with international theory on gender and visual culture studies from a south perspective key questions that are explored in the volume what type of gendered visual culture is being presented and created in the south particularly but not exclusively how is visual culture gendered can one refer to a move beyond gender in terms of a trans gendered visual culture or are we still caught up in the same debilitating role models how does one address the ever increasing alienation between gender studies and the younger generation of students and scholars moving into higher education what is the role of gender as interdisciplinary tool in the academic analysis of visual culture as it spans across several subjects such as science social work technology psychology medicine philosophy sociology engineering communication economics religious studies business management anthropology geography historical studies cultural and media studies visual studies art history and literature studies in this sweeping critique of how managers are educated and how as a consequence management is practiced henry mintzberg offers thoughtful and controversial ideas for reforming both the mba trains the wrong people in the wrong ways with the wrong consequences mintzberg writes using the classroom to help develop people already practicing management is a fine idea but pretending to create managers out of people who have never managed is a sham leaders cannot be created in a classroom they arise in context but people who already practice management can significantly improve their effectiveness given the opportunity to learn thoughtfully from their own experience mintzberg calls for a more engaging approach to managing and a more reflective approach to management education he also outlines how business schools can become true schools of management

i welcome this rigorous examination of some of the many questions which are raised by the doctrine of hell at a time when it is rare to hear even heaven spoken about in our churches it is encouraging that this sober theme is once more in our sights it was plainly often on the lips of jesus nigel m de s cameron trinity international university dr powys has pursued a rigorous examination of the scriptures he rivets our attention on what the new testament actually says about the fate of the unrighteous this is a seminal work david claydon federal secretary cms australia the author writing from a position of biblical conservatism has presented a powerful convincing and scholarly case for the view that the unrighteous will forfeit resurrection life in the kingdom of god it is in my judgment the most thorough treatment of the issue in recent years john w pryor macquarie university this book is an impressive thorough discussion of a thorny question dr powys is at home in many branches of biblical studies he examines the biblical evidence carefully and sets his case out lucidly and with real insight showing convincingly how ill founded are many ancient and many recent views on the fate of the unrighteous his own solution of a set of complex exegetical and theological issues is judicious and clearly the end result of careful thought from the foreword by graham stanton university of cambridge david powys has made a significant contribution to an increasingly important debate his book s real strength lies in its very careful study of new testament teaching in the light of a comprehensive analysis of the old testament and jewish literature this literature is rightly seen not merely as background but as the key to a right understanding of the new testament teaching i wish that such a clear discussion had been available when i first began engaging with these questions stephen travis st john s college nottingham david powys was educated at the university of melbourne he gained degrees in arts and social work studied theology at ridley college and was ordained in 1981 dr powys has ministered in four melbourne parishes he is an examining chaplain to the archbishop of melbourne and a member of archbishop in council and national synod he was awarded the doctor of theology by the australian college of theology in 1994 for his the hermeneutics of hell the present volume is a slightly abbreviated version of that dissertation
