at a time when the situation of women in the islamic world is of global interest here is a study that unlocks the mystery of why women s fates vary so greatly from one country to another mounira m charrad analyzes the distinctive nature of islamic legal codes by placing them in the larger context of state power in various societies charrad argues that many analysts miss what is going on in islamic societies because they fail to recognize the logic of the kin based model of social and political life which she contrasts with the western class centered model in a skillful synthesis she shows how the logic of islamic legal codes and kin based political power affect the position of women these provide the key to charrad s empirical puzzle why after colonial rule women in tunisia gained broad legal rights even in the absence of a feminist protest movement while despite similarities in culture and religion women remained subordinated in post independence morocco and algeria charrad s elegant theory crisp writing and solid scholarship make a unique contribution in developing a state building paradigm to discuss women s rights this book will interest readers in the fields of sociology politics law women s studies postcolonial studies middle eastern studies middle eastern history french history and maghrib studies

The Treaty-making Power in Various Countries 1919 the united states army and the making of america from confederation to empire 1775 1903 is the story of how the american military and more particularly the regular army has played a vital role in the late eighteenth and nineteenth century united states that extended beyond the battlefield repeatedly americans used the army not only to secure their expanding empire and fight their enemies but to shape their nation and their vision of who they were often in ways not directly associated with shooting wars or combat that the regular army served as nation builders is ironic given the officer corps obsession with a warrior ethic and the deep seated disdain for a standing army that includes thomas jefferson s declaration of independence the writings of henry david thoreau and debates regarding congressional appropriations whether the issue concerned indian policy the appropriate division of power between state and federal authorities technology transportation communications or business innovations the public demanded that the military remain small even as it expected those
